SCIENTIFIC PROGRAMME

DAY 3, Wednesday 23rd – Live Surgery
Department of Gynaecology and Obstetrics

This program is of critical importance as it enables direct, real-time exchange on the most advanced surgical techniques, fostering both standardization and innovation in the management of gynecologic cancers. The integration of live surgery with dedicated educational sessions further strengthens multidisciplinary collaboration, with a direct impact on the evolution of treatment approaches and on patient outcomes in ovarian, endometrial, and cervical cancer.
